Thanks for reaching out. I thought about you guys when I saw the news about the league shutting down. I know that is a tough break for you guys and a lot of other people. Hang in there.

Coach is bringing his guy with him from Virginia Tech. If for some reason something happens and that changes, I will definitely let him know about you. Also, keep in contact with Matt as he will be coordinating the hiring process for this job and other non-football jobs. Let me know if there is a job that comes open somewhere and I can help you.

Best of luck.

Good Morning Justin,

I hope the spring is going well for you and your family.

I wanted to let you know that I applied for the open men's basketball athletic trainer position that is open at Texas A&M this morning. I am not sure if Coach Williams does have someone in mind for this position or not, but if there is a chance to interview candidates I would like to be considered for this position. I think I would do a great job for the program and university.

Please keep me in mind as you go through the hiring process.

Take care,
